A recent article in the UT revealed that Councilwoman Cardenas signed a document for her brother's firm indicating she was a principle officer. therefore under state law she should be reporting on her 700 form the names of all clients and the amounts paid by the clients, which she did not do .

why is no action being taken to remedy this violation of state law? She clearly needs to be given two choices-resign or comply. Everyone else honestly completes this form. Why is the city allowing her to not do so? It is bad enough the city still has not clarified legal uses of excess campaign funds but a violation of state law?
